

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended

Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
This Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly gratified to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir.

A sovereign remedy for colds, obsteinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, cat-arrhs, and approaching consumptions.— To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative.

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Loss of spirits back
Loss of appetite Indigestion Impurity of blood Melancholy Hysterical affection Gout in the stomach Inward weaknesses Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy to one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of nervous weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of the advertisement.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from Peter Graham, living near Middleburg, Loudoun county, Va. on the night of the 25th of March last, a very lively Negro girl, named ANN, purchased of Wm. Noland, living at Aldie, Loudoun county, whose family she was raised in. She is of a yellow complexion, round faced, thick lips, with large staring eyes, and rather delicate featured for a slave—small feet, a tolerable really speech and mild with it; about 18 years of age, middle size, and very well made; rather thick, about 5 feet high from appearance.
She fell on when she was a year and a dress of crinoline cloth, made in a coat and jacket, with skirts of a brown and blue color. I have reason to believe she is in or near Philadelphia or New-York. I will give fifty dollars reward if taken in Fauquier,

PATRIOTIC DUES AND SONG, IN THE "AMERICAN VOLUNTEERS," A Ballet Interlude,
FOR THE BENEFIT OF MISS TRAJETTA, THIS EVENING, JAN. 13.

PATRIOTIC DUE,
BY MESSRS. GARNER AND DUKING.
Haste away, haste away,
At the trumpet's shrill call,
To the shores where our foes Or our liberty fall.

Every hand, every heart
In the conflict unites;
Every arm shall prevail,
When we fight for our rights.

To the field! to the field!
Where our foes dare approach,
That no hostile array
On our soil may encroach.

Fly to arms! fly to arms!
Hear the battle's deep roar:
To the fight! win the day!
Or be freemen no more.

PATRIOTIC SONG,
BY MISS TRAJETTA.
Arise, ye brave! defend your shore and right,
The foe would wrest your liberty:
And let the patriot flame be glowing bright,
That bade your sires be free.

The martial spirits cry to arms! to arms!
"Ti. honor calls, we must obey!
Already see the signals, hear th' alarms!
Come share the glorious day.

Where Freedom's banner proudly greets the sky,
Your country's foes shall find their graves:
Your warrior's band shall shout for victory—

We never will be slaves.

From a late English Paper.

SINGULAR INCIDENT.

One of the most extraordinary instances of good fortune, that perhaps ever occurred to any human being, has fallen to the lot of a young gentleman, now about 18 years of age, the son of a respectable farmer, in the vicinity of New-Market. In travelling more than 18 months from his father's house in the county of Cambridge, towards Shrewsbury (where he went to school) he accidentally met with an elderly gentleman in the stage coach, to whom he was entirely unknown—but he was so much pleased with his company, that before they parted at Shrewsbury, (where the gentleman resided) he told the youth he had been long looking for a person to whom he might leave his fortune, and that he was the object of his election.— The gentleman then gave him an invitation to his house, where he was always treated with the greatest respect, and introduced to the best society of the place for more than a year, and had a horse and a servant kept for him whilst he remained at the school, which he continued to do till very recently. The gentleman being taken extremely ill within these few weeks, sent for the youth and repeated his former intimation of giving him all his property. Accordingly, he caused a free gift of his immense wealth to be legally made out, only stipulating, that in case he survived, the youth should handsomely provide for him during the continuance of his life. He however, died within a short time after he signed the deed, in which it has been discovered that he possessed more than 500,000l. sterling! What is very remarkable, the youth (as we are told) never communicated any one of the circumstances to his family, until after the decease of the gentleman (who is said to have been a West Indian) fearing, probably, to raise expectations that might never be realized.—Since the event, however, we have great pleasure in relating, that the youth's filial and fraternal affection has been most honourably evinced, by his having voluntarily given 50,000l. each to his father and elder brother. Such are the circumstances of this singular incident as they have been verbally communicated to us: for the correctness of the whole of which statement we cannot vouch, but the main fact is undeniable, although we are not authorized to name this favorite of fortune.

The London Observer, of Nov.
16, contains the subsequent additional particulars:

We by no means vouch for the following extraordinary statement which is copied from a country paper.

"We lately gave an account of an immense fortune being left to a youth by a gentleman who had accidentally met him in a stage coach, on his way to school, at Shrewsbury. We have now before us a letter on this subject, from a gentleman in Cambridgeshire, dated October 28, from which we extract the following particulars:

"I delayed this letter till I could give you some particulars of the most extraordinary of all extraordinary affairs that ever came to my knowledge. The young man who has been spoken of in the Newspapers, as having had a fortune of 500,000l left him, is one whom I know very well, as well as his family. They are respectable farmers at Chippenham, near Newmarket, and their farm is part of the Thorpe estate, of which Mr. W. is receiver by appointment of the Court of Chancery. When the tidings were first made public here, it was considered as a joke upon the father of the young man; and after it began in some slight degree to be credited, no one could think it possible that the property bequeathed was so immense as it has since proved.
The accounts you have seen in the papers are pretty correct, as far as they go, with the exception of this particular. The person who left the property never knew the family; nor the fortunate object of his bounty, any further than seeing him going to and from the Shrewsbury school. But now for the amount. The Duke of Devonshire's income is 235,000l. a year, and that of the Duke of Rutland 126,000l. by rent roll. The income left to this youth, is more than double that of these two Dukes! Mr. W. the receiver above mentioned, and who is a gentleman of great respectability, was requested on Thursday by the father of the youth, to go to Chippenham immediately to meet the family, and he staid with them till Saturday. I have had much conversation with him since on the matter. It appears the person who left this property was named Develneux; that he lived reclusive and was little known.
In the funds have been found millions, his property; not one or two, Mr. W. says, but millions! The estate in Spain is valued at 100,000l. a year—the Scotch estate immense, besides an estate of great value in the West Indies. There is not a Sovereign in Europe but what is indebted to him, and that to an immense amount.— Scarcely a loan that he has not a share in, or a Nobleman's estate in Great Britain involved, but this man has a claim upon. Whatever you may think of this statement, it will soon be found to be true. Mr. W. says it is a property of dangerous amount; for it is more than sufficient to overturn the State. I am sorry to add, that within the last few days the favored youth (who is about 18 years of age) has taken to his bed, and cannot be persuaded to get up. It is feared that his good fortune has affected his mind, and great uneasiness and alarm are felt for him. In my next you shall know more."

Drury Lane Theatre.
A successor to the management of this Theatre, in the room of the lamented Mr. Raymond, has at length been appointed, and the public, we think, will be satisfied with the nomination. Yesterday the committee announced to Mr. Henry Erskine Johnson, that he was elected by them to fill the office of Stage Manager, and last night the intelligence was officially promulgated in the green room of the Theatre.

Sudden Death.

On Thursday the 16th ult. died at Bow-wood, the seat of the marquis of Lansdown, Mr. Broad, for nearly forty years steward in the marquis's family; being out in the park on the preceding day with a party of ladies and gentlemen, he found a dead adder, which he took up in his hand, and opened the mouth to shew where the poison of the creature lay; in doing this, however, the subtle matter communicated to a cat in one of his fingers. On the next morning Mr. B. was found dead in his bed, with every mark of his having died from the effects of the poison, the arm being much inflamed.

It is somewhat curious that the Earl of St. Vincent, at his advanced stage of life, is on the eye of a voyage to Naples. His Lordship was some years ago invested with a Sicilian order of nobility by the king of Naples, which has been confirmed by the Prince Regent.

ALEXANDRIA: TUESDAY, JANUARY 13, 1818.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASH-INGTON.

Saturday, January 10, 1818.

The case of Colonel Anderson has excited so much interest in some, and curiosity in all, that the gallery was crowded yesterday as to fill a good many with the apprehension that it would not be able to sustain the weight. They who came to enjoy the novel exhibition of hearing him interrogated, and answering to personal interrogatories, were disappointed. They had not even the satisfaction to see him brought to the bar.— This arose from a new turn given to the business, by Mr. Spencer, of New-York, who moved that all further proceedings against him should cease—that he should be released—that the attorney-general should be ordered to prosecute him at law, and that a bill should be brought in to punish contempts of congress.

Upon this proposition a long debate arose, which, though continued till past 4 o'clock, seemed not to have half exhausted the house, and will be continued this day again—perhaps Monday too, Tuesday and Wednesday, for it is a fruitful topic for those who aspire to launch the bolt of eloquence, and to be thought patriotic; nor will it be thrown away upon the house—they will, no doubt, make a bounteous use of it. As it is possible, however, that the particular point thus put in debate may be argued out in the course of this day, I shall postpone entering into it till I have got the whole, and can present it compressed together into one point of view—so that the eye may be able to take in the common intent of it at one glance. Mr. Spencer made a very able and argumentative speech in support of his resolution—Mr.
Barber a very ingenious one, and Mr. Anderson, Mr. Robertson of Louisiana, and Mr. Irvine of S. Carolina, spoke on the same side.—Mr. Forsyth, Mr. Tucker, and Mr. Mercer, on the other. Mr.
Sheres was about to speak when the house rose—and I expect that Mr. Hopkinson, Mr. Sergeant, and other gentlemen, particularly those of the long robe, will tomorrow open their lower deck guns upon the resolution. I am greatly mistaken however, if, throwing out repetitions, the substantial amount of all that is and will be said on both sides, when belted of the brain, will not lie perfectly at its ease in a close compactly printed column or two of your paper. I imagine that I already see on one side a quivering at popular approbation—a kind of ultra-democratic intendment. As the wind seemed to me to come from that quarter early yesterday, and to breeze up towards evening, I suspect it will freshen this morning, and perhaps swell to a gale—in which case, a very moderate share of sagacity will be able to anticipate the result. But enough for the present!—Besides—were privilege!

Saturday evening, Jan. 10.

The discussions in the case of Colonel Anderson have, as I foreboded, consumed the whole of this day, and are adjourned over to Monday, to be then continued.— The question is still on Mr. Spencer's resolution, which, as my letter of this morning informed you, were offered yesterday morning, and debated all day;— and which go entirely to impugn the power of Congress to punish offences against its privileges. This morning Mr. Anderson sent a letter to the speaker inclosing a communication for the house, expressive of his submission to and respect for that body, desiring permission to waive any constitutional objections that might have been raised on his behalf—reigning too the privilege vouchsafed to him of calling in counsel for his defence, and requesting that he might be brought forward at once—that certain questions which he meant to commit to writing for the purpose might be put to witnesses in the house, and that his defence and apology, which he also proposed to give in writing, should be read to the house by the clerk. On the speaker's communicating these papers to the house, a motion was made that Mr. Spencer's resolutions should be laid upon the table, to be disposed of after Mr. Anderson should be heard. This was supported by some of the gentlemen who were opposed to those resolutions, yet was opposed by some others of them, particularly by Mr. Hopkinson and Mr. Holmes, on the grounds that as the resolutions had already undergone much discussion, it was desirable that the questions they involved should be decided while the arguments upon them were yet fresh in the minds of the house; and because, too, the arguments having been entirely on one side, it would be injustice to the subject not to hear those on the other. Above all, because the question, being of incalculable importance, and being set almost in public, ought to be put to rest without delay, and have precedence to every other matter.

The motion to lay the resolutions on the table was therefore negatived—and the discussion on the resolutions, or in other words on the power to punish contempts and offences against itself, was resumed, and lasted till 4 o'clock, when the house adjourned to Monday, at which time it will be again resumed, and, I dare say, carried on with unabated zeal.

You will observe that the point now in question is not the innocence or criminality of Colonel Anderson—but the much more important, I may say awful one, whether congress has the power constitutionally to repress and punish any encroachments and offences, or as they call it, contempts against its own body—which these resolutions would deny. If the advocates of this principle succeed in their attempts, the inference necessarily arising from it will be, that congress has never had a right to punish—that when it has done so—and so it has done in several instances, in its best days—it has been guilty of usurpation; and that it has escaped from violation more by good luck and its impotence not being known, than by any power it has possessed to defend itself or punish aggressions.
For if the doctrine broached within the two last days were true (I trust in God it is not), so entirely unprovided would congress have been with means of self-protection, that (to borrow an illustration from Mr. Holmes) if a ruffian had entered the gallery and thrown a rotten egg in the speaker's face, the house had no power to get at or punish him for the outrage, provided the fellow was nimble enough to get without side the walls of the house before the sergeant at arms could lay hold on him, and thus the dignity of the house and the good order of its proceedings would depend, not upon the basis of any process of reason, but upon a race between the offending ruffin and the sergeant at arms.

It is no slight proof of the absurdity of a principle, that, when reduced by the imagination to practice, the result is perfectly ridiculous. Can such have been the intention of the framers of the constitution?—Impossible.—A great body of lawgivers, vested by general suffrage with the very highest legislative powers over eight millions of free people, and yet left at the mercy and caprice of any one vile ruffian in that eight millions, who might deliberately chuse to assault and insult it, would be such an anomaly, a prodigy, a monstrous moral deformity, as one would think, could only exist in the shantams of a mad poet, laboring under a fever of the brain, or the dominion of the night mare.
Monday or Tuesday will decide whether we are to be considered as having for years been awed by such a spectre. Yet surely it cannot be that the infatuation of a few of its members can infect so wise a sound a body. I will not believe it.— Oh, thou illustrious author of the renowned Lemuel Gulliver, how dull, how pleg-matic was thy brain—how languid and lame thy imagination, when compared with the flights of modern metaphysical politicians!!!

Observe! what I say applies only to the principle attempted to be established by the resolutions—not a word of it or even a thought glances at Colonel Anderson, who, notwithstanding this unguard-ed act, is said to be a worthy and benevolent man and a very meritorious useful citizen.

FIFTH DYNASTY OF AMELIA ISLAND.
Record of monarchs in this revolutionary island since June last: General M-Gregor—abdicated.
Governor Irwin—displaced.
Governor Hubbard—dead.
Governor Arny—dispossessed.
Colonel Bankhead—in possession.

Such has been the celebrity and facility of change, that one good pair of boots would have out lasted the whole concern, previous to the recent capture by the United States.

EFFICACY OF DREAMS.
An elegant suitout, (says the Boston Daily Advertiser) advertised a few days ago, has been found. A young man was suspected of the theft, and had been charged with it; but he could not be made to acknowledge it, and no conclusive proof could be found against him. A few days afterwards the accused dreamed that the coat was concealed at a place which he described, in a remote part of the town. On the following night he dreamed the same dream, and on the third night his dream was repeated, the examination, at the place described, resulted in the fact that the coat was actually concealed there.

LATEST FROM THE ARMY.

Milledgeville, Dec. 30.
Extract of a letter from an intelligent officer in the detachment of Georgia militia, to his friend in this place, dated "Camp near Hartford, Dec. 23.

"The army arrived here two days ago, where we have since been detained for want of provisions. We shall move tomorrow evening, [last Wednesday] but it is my opinion that our progress will soon be retarded from the same cause. I had, before my arrival at this place, flattered myself that the opportunity would not be wanting to render service to the country; but my opinion and belief is now entirely changed. From everything I have been able to learn, the Indian things which lay on our route as far as Flint river are as friendly to the whites as any people can be. At Flint river [50 miles above Fort Scott] we are ordered by general Gaines to build a fort, or works of some description, and await further orders; and I believe at that point the expedition will close."

General Gaines, it is believed, still labors under some embarrassment with respect to pursuing the Indians beyond the limits of the United States. Not having the requisite authority from the government, he very naturally has scruples about carrying the war against the Indians into a neutral territory on his own responsibility. Should this difficulty be removed, hostilities will be recommenced about the middle of next month, and proceeded with vigor till the savages are effectually chastised.

A gentleman just from Hartford informs us that the militia had not left there on Sunday morning, being unable to move from the want of provisions. There was nothing new.

New-York, Jan. 7.

A rumor reached town on Sunday, that the steam boat Massachusetts, which started from Salem some time since, and touched at this port, bound to Mobile, was ashore at Little Egg Harbor; and we yesterday ascertained two of the hands who went from this city in the boat had returned. They state that the Massachusetts was cast away at the above place on the night of the 29th December, and that no hopes of saving her were entertained. They also state that the engine and most of the rigging had been got ashore before they left the boat.

FROM HAVANA.
Captain Smith, of the brig Mary, from Havana, informs, that captain Bates, of a ship belonging to an eastern port, had been robbed by a gang of villains at Havana, and that he was severely stabbed in his struggle to save his property. The schooner Rising Sun, from Baltimore, had also been robbed by a gang of 16 men painted red. The captain's trunk, containing $500, and the mate's, containing $150, were subsequently recovered.

On the 17th of December, in lat. 50, 30, long. 76, captain Smith spoke a Carthaginian privateer brig, captain Parker, of twelve 18 pound cannonades and 150 men, 30 days from Amelia Island. She had just captured a Spanish ship, from Havana, valued at $50,000. She had also captured two vessels belonging to a fleet of merchantmen from Havana bound to Spain.

Westchester, (Penn.) Jan. 7.

A gentleman at Washington City gives us the following interesting circumstance under date of 27th December:
"On Christmas day Elizabeth H. Walker, a public minister of the society of Friends, from New-York, preached in the Capitol before a large meeting of members of Congress, public officers and ladies. She gave two prayers and an excellent sermon of two hours & a quarter length and during all that time she retained the attention of the meeting. The scene to many was new, and to all interesting."

On the evening of the celebration of St. John, the 27th ult. one of the most elegant and curious specimens of mechanism, was freely exhibited in this borough by its owner, Mr. Smith, that probably is in the United States. It consists of a box four inches long, three wide, and deep, of fine gold. On one end is a box—on the other a lid opens and declines an eight day time piece, which besides striking the hours and quarters plays a number of beautiful tunes. It is the most wonderful part is, that on retaining a spring, a picture on the top of the box rises slowly and discovers a bird ascending from below. The bird is about an inch in length; of plumage the most rich, and yet the most natural. It is with astonishing sweetness, and accompanies its voice with all those motions common to a living bird—its head turns from side to side, its little bill opens its throat swells at every note, and its wings and tail spread and contract according to its strain. After finishing and peeping its strain, it drops upon its feet on a nest, descends to its retreat, and it lid gently closes to its place. It is to be the work of an Italian artist, and to have been sold for 1500 dollars. Mr.

Smith, in the most polite and accommodating manner, showed it to all those ladies and gentlemen whose curiosity led them to wish to see this singular and pleasing exhibition. [Ibid.

SORROWFUL ACCIDENT!

On the 5th instant, a small boy, about six years of age, son of John and Mary Hickins, near the Seven Stars, in Aston township, Delaware County, his father and mother being absent, took up an old gun, that had been charged about Christmas, and several times attempted to be discharged but failed; he, (as is thought) without the least idea of any damage, presented the gun at his sister, of about ten years of age, drew the trigger, and unfortunately the gun went off, & lodged its contents in her bowels! she immediately fell, and in the extremity of her distress called to her papa, and sorrowful to say, she only survived about an hour, but little more than time, for a distressed father, and a weeping mother, to behold a blooming beloved child's untimely death!

It only remains to say, let parents and children, take warning by the unhappy circumstance. [Poulson.

Extract of a letter from an American gentleman in England, to his friend in Philadelphia, dated Nov. 17, 1817.

This nation is literally in tears for the death of the Princess Charlotte. No woman ever died so universally lamented.— With the prospect of ere long being called to the first throne on earth, she lived in retirement, apparently unconscious of her elevated rank. She was affable and gracious to all around her. She delighted in doing good. Married to a man she loved, she lived from the pomp of courts, and retired in the full enjoyment of domestic happiness. Independently of political considerations, her death is most sincerely to be lamented. Her correct and virtuous deportment must necessarily have produced a salutary effect on the higher ranks of society. Her example must have had a moral tendency, and would in time no doubt have corrected the vices of the day. As a Princess, she was dignified, but affable; as a wife, affectionate and exemplary. She was kind to the poor. She was a strict attendant on public worship, and her Sundays, after the hours of church, were passed in reading the best English sermons. [Ibid.

To the Flour and Rice Millers

OF THE UNITED STATES.

GENTLEMEN.—It appears that many have refused to pay for license to use my improvements in the art of manufacturing flour, and in lessening the labor in rice mills, waiting the decision of the United States' courts; while many others have paid freely the same I demanded for my license; there can exist no reason why some should pay and others be exempt. There has already been a sufficient number of decisions establishing the law, that each infringer is liable to pay treble my actual damages, which cannot be rated at less than the value of the use of my property during the infringement. I have expanded the greatest part of a long, arduous, and unprofitable life in study and exertions to invent and introduce into useful operation several important and highly useful improvements, from which great benefits are derived to the users, and I could have put in operation many more equally useful, but was prevented by the unjustifiable opposition, wasting the profits of those in operation, which I had intended to apply to put others in operation which I had discovered; but which now lay dormant, to my great mortification and the public injury. I come into the courts claiming remuneration for my time and labor—the great expenses that I have incurred in advertising repeatedly over the United States, and in my agents travelling for many years to make the utility of the improvements known, and to instruct millwrights to make, and millers to use them. The law contemplates that I shall receive ample remuneration, and by it I was encouraged to risk the great expenses. I have repeatedly published that the price of my license for the remainder of the term should be, the full price of the labor and boarding saved by the use of my improvements in one year only, with lawful interest until paid; but to those who infringed my rights, and refused to pay when called on, I would, beginning with the year ending January 25, 1815, count the sum saved in labor and boarding during the last year (equal to the first price) as a new sum becoming due, and running on interest also; and so on, the 22d day of January in each and every year thereafter a new sum saved in labor and boarding becomes due, and runs on interest until license be purchased, demanding the interest only on all these sums, leaving the principal in the hands of the users; which is the least I can receive of them to meet the expenses which they have compelled me to incur. The above are now the only terms on which my agents are instructed to grant licenses, and they are instructed to institute suits against all infringers without giving them another call.

Those who wish to purchase licenses may apply to John Love, esq. Buckland, Prince William county, or to Capt. John Moody, Richmond, Va.

OLIVER EVANS.

NOTE.—Persons using Mr. Evans' improvements, or parts of them, unpaid for, will be sued if they do not discharge the claim on application. Mr. William H. Alexander has, under my authority from Mr. Evans, been empowered to receive payments and deliver licenses to use his improvements. Payments, therefore, made to him, John Moody, or myself, will come be valid, and save the expense of suit and feeble damages to the defendants.

Land for Sale.
THE Subscriber offers for sale, about 2000 acres of land in Fairfax county, not more than seven to nine miles from Alexandria. The property is well watered, has a sufficiency of wood, and (judging from the condition of small and well cultivated farms that adjoin it) it is highly susceptible of improvement.—It is at present divided into tenements, of from one to two hundred acres, each provided with a dwelling house, out houses, a garden and orchard; and might, of course, be laid out into four or five very compact farms.
The principal object of the subscriber, being the introduction of a good system of husbandry into its neighbourhood, he will sell on very moderate terms, give a long credit on the whole amount of the purchase money, and require no other interest, than what the present rent of the land pays, being about 3 per cent. on its estimated value.

Sully for Sale.
THIS estate, situated in the county of Fairfax, twenty two miles from Alexandria, and the same distance from Georgetown, contains about seven hundred and fifty acres. Little River Turnpike passes through it half a mile from the dwelling house. The situation is handsome, and remarkably healthy; the water is good and abundant. The soil which was originally excellent, has for some years past had the advantage of improving husbandry, Plaster of Paris acting with powerful and immediate effect on all grasses and grains. The fields present a good surface for cultivation; and there, now unfilled, are covered with red clover. The orchards are very large and thrifty; the collection of table fruit is choice and various. The mansion is spacious and well constructed; the outhouses are conveniently situated, and the whole have been lately thoroughly repaired and painted. The farm house-es, which are all nearly new, are expensive and excellent in their kind.
For a gentleman of leisure this would be a delightful residence; and a profitable estate for an active farmer. The title is indisputable, and perfectly unincum-bered.
A number of well taught orderly young men, with good stocks and farming utensils of all kinds, and the crops of the present year, if desired, will be at the command of the purchaser.
Application may be made to the subscriber, living on the premises, next the post-office at Pleasant Valley, in Fairfax.

is about 28 or 30 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, tolerably well made, yellow complexion, large mouth, very white teeth, and to the best of my recollection a scar on his right cheek—he is very fond of drink, and when intoxicated is a great reprobate and excessively noisy. His clothing is not recollected, but as he received his wages before he started it is probable he has furnished himself with a new suit. BENJ. T. FENDALL.

the next day on the road near Bladen-

Lee's Medicine Store,
No. 45, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDI-CINES:
Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,
Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.
This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is as mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.
Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terres or large round worm; the Ascari-des or small maw-worm; the Cucurbi-tis or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.
Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fætid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.
Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.
A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.
Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.
For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended.
Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.
with a degree of success highly gratifying
to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West India and in the Southern
and Middle States, &c.
The testimony of a number of persons
can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved
cumstances.
more in favour of a medicine than col-
mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can re-
valence of our bilious fevers, will prevent an infallible preventive; and further,
that in the earlier stages of those diseases,
esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.
The operation of these pills is perfectly
sons in every situation and of every age.
moving habitual constiveness—sickness at
change of climate.
They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disor-
ed for use by every seaman.
